FREE symposium and workshop for providers and consumers to share their expertise, knowledge and approach to working together as Partners in Care.

Responding to feedback from attendees at the first symposium, we have added a two-hour workshop run by NZ-based experts in co-design, Hilary Boyd and Dr Lynne Maher. Add to this, consumer and provider speakers sharing their experiences working in partnership, and keynote international speaker and author Matthew Johnstone, and this is a day well worth attending.

CHRISTCHURCH

16 June 2014, 9am–4.30pm
Rydges Latimer Christchurch
30 Latimer Square

AUCKLAND

18 June 2014, 9am–4.30pm
Ellerslie Event Centre

Lunch and refreshments will be provided at each event.

Focus of the symposium

Areas covered will include:

- Being 'at the table at the time' – consumers involved in decision making in health and disability services.
- Partnering for innovation in service delivery.
- Understanding patient, family and staff experience and transforming care through co-design (workshop).
- How to actively involve consumers and keep them involved.
- How we got together to co-design our service.
- What challenges we faced and how we overcame them.
- Progressing good quality health information in NZ.
- Cultural safety in aged care.
