

Coming together to be better

Nou te rourou, Nāku te rourou ka ora ai te iwi katoa With my food basket and your food basket the iwi shall be fed

12th Annual Conference of the Perinatal and Maternal Mortality Review Committee (PMMRC)

26 June 2018 Te Papa Tongarewa, Wellington

Tuesd	ay, 26 June 2018
Time	Session
8:00am	Registration opens
8:50am	Karakia and mihi whakatau
	Peter Jackson (Te Āti Awa)
8:55am	Welcome from the PMMRC Chair Dr Sue Belgrave, consultant obstetrician & gynaecologist, Waitemata DHB
9:05am	Welcome from the Health Quality & Safety Commission Board Dr Dale Bramley
9:15am	Official opening Hon Julie Anne Genter, Assoc. Minister of Health and Minister for Women
9:25am	12th PMMRC Annual Report overview* Dr Lynn Sadler, epidemologist, Auckland DHB
10:00am	Morning tea
10:35am	Findings from the PMMRC analysis of 10 years of neonatal mortality in Aotearoa New Zealand Dr Chris McKinley, neonatologist, Counties Manukau Health
11:10am	Equity for Māori; reflecting on the data in the 12th PMMRC Annual Report Dr Terryann Clark, senior lecturer, School of Nursing, University of Auckland; Whangarei Child and Youth Friendly cities coordinator, Manaia PHO
11:45am	Variations in incidence of, and survival from, congenital left heart obstruction in New Zealand by ethnicity
	Dr Elza Cloete, neonatologist, Hon. lecturer paediatrics, University of Auckland

12:35pm Lunch	12:10pm		: to be seen, connected and empowered: lings and the collective whānau/family voice to
Soundings Theatre Shining a light Maternal mortality data has shone a light on maternal death; we discuss practical guidance for working with pregnant and post-partum women to support improved care. Facilitated by the PMMRC Maternal Mortality Review Working Group Time to move between rooms (five minutes) 2:20pm Reducing perinatal mortality Update your knowledge about best practice to further reduce stillbirth in New Zealand: • detect and manage fetal growth restriction; and • optimise maternal sleep practices. Professor Lesley McCowan, maternal fetal medicine specialist, Auckland DHB and Head of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, University of Auckland; Joyce Cowan, senior lecturer – midwifery, AUT University. Facilitated by Dr Sue Belgrave Soundings Theatre Rangimarie 1 & 2 Understanding the seriousness of mater morbidity • Miss J and the findings from panel reviews of 32 women with sepsis, at the ups and downs of being a morbi reviewer. • Tread the ups and downs of being a morbi reviewer. Dr Matthew Drake, anaesthetist, Auckland DHB; Linda Penlington, consumer representative; Lucy Pettit, midwife, Whanganui DHB; Dr Leona Dann, maternity specialist, Healtt Quality & Safety Commission Understanding the seriousness of mater morbidity Primatory of 32 women with sepsis, at the ups and downs of being a morbi reviewer. Dr Matthew Drake, anaesthetist, Auckland DHB; Linda Penlington, consumer representative; Lucy Pettit, midwife, Whanganui DHB; Dr Leona Dann, maternity specialist, Healtt Quality & Safety Commission Understanding the value of the investigations Understanding the value of the investigations Understanding the value of the investigations with sepsis, at the ups and downs of being a morbi reviewer. Professor Lesley McCowan, enternal fetal investigations Women's views of late stillbirth postmortem: findings from the New Zeal Multicentre Stillbirth Study Wallington; Robin Cronin, PMMRC member; Vicki Culling, Perinatal Loss Consultant/Trainer, Wellington; members of Sands W
Soundings Theatre Shining a light Maternal mortality data has shone a light on maternal suicide as a leading cause of maternal death; we discuss practical guidance for working with pregnant and post-partum women to support improved care. Facilitated by the PMMRC Maternal Mortality Review Working Group Facilitated by the PMMRC Maternal Mortality Review Working Group Time to move between rooms (five minutes) Reducing perinatal mortality Update your knowledge about best practice to further reduce stillbirth in New Zealand: • detect and manage fetal growth restriction; and • optimise maternal sleep practices. Professor Lesley McCowan, maternal fetal medicine specialist, Auckland DHB and Head of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, University of Auckland; Joyce Cowan, senior lecturer — midwifery, AUT University. Facilitated by Dr Sue Belgrave Rangimarie 1 & 2 Understanding the seriousness of mater morbidity Miss J and the findings from panel reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the upsand downs of being a morbine reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the upsand downs of being a morbine reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the findings from panel reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the findings from panel reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the findings from panel reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the upsand downs of being a morbine reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the findings from panel reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the findings from panel reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the findings from panel reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the findings from panel reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the findings from panel reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the findings from panel reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the findings from panel reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the findings from panel reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the findings from panel reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the findings from panel reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the findings from panel r	12:35pm	Lunch
1:30pm Shining a light Maternal mortality data has shone a light on maternal suicide as a leading cause of maternal death; we discuss practical guidance for working with pregnant and post-partum women to support improved care. Facilitated by the PMMRC Maternal Mortality Review Working Group Time to move between rooms (five minutes) 2:15pm Time to move between rooms (five minutes) Reducing perinatal mortality Update your knowledge about best practice to further reduce stillbirth in New Zealand: • detect and manage fetal growth restriction; and • optimise maternal sleep practices. Professor Lesley McCowan, maternal fetal medicine specialist, Auckland DHB and Head of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, University of Auckland; Joyce Cowan, senior lecturer – midwifery, AUT University. Facilitated by Dr Sue Belgrave Understanding the seriousness of mater morbidity Miss J and the findings from panel reviewes of 32 women with sepsis, at the ups and downs of being a morbid reviewer. Dr Matthew Drake, anaesthetist, Auckland DHB; Linda Penlington, consumer representative; Lucy Pettit, midwife, Whanganui DHB; Dr Leona Dann, maternity specialist, Healti Quality & Safety Commission Understanding the value of the investigations Understanding the value of the investigations Understanding the value of the investigation perinatal deaths and whanau/family perspective: • post-mortem and alternatives to post mortems • women's views of late stillbirth post-mortem: findings from the New Zeal Multicentre Stillbirth Study • whānau and family perspective of post-mortem and creating memories Dr Kate Strachan, perinatal pathologist, Wellington; Robin Cronin, PMMRC member; Vicki Culling, Perinatal Loss Consultant/Trainer, Wellington; members of Sands Wellington & Hutt Valley, Shyz Khar and Yvonne Daymond		Concurrent	sessions
Maternal mortality data has shone a light on maternal suicide as a leading cause of maternal death; we discuss practical guidance for working with pregnant and post-partum women to support improved care. Facilitated by the PMMRC Maternal Mortality Review Working Group Time to move between rooms (five minutes) Prime to move between rooms (five minutes) Reducing perinatal mortality Update your knowledge about best practice to further reduce stillbirth in New Zealand: detect and manage fetal growth restriction; and optimise maternal sleep practices. Professor Lesley McCowan, maternal fetal medicine specialist, Auckland DHB and Head of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, University of Auckland; Joyce Cowan, senior lecturer – midwifery, AUT University. Facilitated by Dr Sue Belgrave Miss J and the findings from panel reviews of 32 women with sepsis, at the ups and downs of being a morbin reviews of 32 women with sepsis, at the ups and downs of being a morbin reviews of 32 women with sepsis, at the ups and downs of being a morbin reviews of 32 women with sepsis, at the ups and downs of being a morbin reviews of 32 women with sepsis, at the ups and downs of being a morbin reviews of 32 women with sepsis, at the ups and downs of being a morbin reviews of 32 women with sepsis, at the ups and downs of being a morbin reviews of 32 women with sepsis, at the ups and downs of being a morbin reviewer. Dr Matthew Drake, anaesthetist, Auckland DHB; Linda Penllington, consumer representative; Lucy Pettit, midwife, Whanganui DHB; Dr Leona Dann, maternity specialist, Auckland DHB; Linda Penllington, consumer representative; Lucy Pettit, midwife, Whanganui DHB; Dr Leona Dann, maternity specialist, Auckland DHB; Linda Penllington, consumer representative; Lucy Pettit, midwife, Whanganui DHB; Dr Leona Dann, maternity specialist, Auckland DHB; Linda Penllington, consumer representative; Lucy Pettit, midwife, Whanganui DHB; Linda Penllington, ensurer specialist, Auckland DHB; Linda Penllington, ensurer specialist, Au		Soundings Theatre	Rangimarie 1 & 2
2:20pm Reducing perinatal mortality Update your knowledge about best practice to further reduce stillbirth in New Zealand: • detect and manage fetal growth restriction; and • optimise maternal sleep practices. Professor Lesley McCowan, maternal fetal medicine specialist, Auckland DHB and Head of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, University of Auckland; Joyce Cowan, senior lecturer – midwifery, AUT University. Facilitated by Dr Sue Belgrave Perinatal investigations Understanding the value of the investigation perinatal deaths and whanau/family perspective: • post-mortem and alternatives to post mortems • women's views of late stillbirth postmortem: findings from the New Zeal Multicentre Stillbirth Study • whānau and family perspective of postmortem and creating memories Dr Kate Strachan, perinatal pathologist, Wellington; Robin Cronin, PMMRC member; Wicki Culling, Perinatal Loss Consultant/Trainer, Wellington; members of Sands Wellington & Hutt Valley, Shyz Khar and Yvonne Daymond	1:30pm	Maternal mortality data has shone a light on maternal suicide as a leading cause of maternal death; we discuss practical guidance for working with pregnant and post-partum women to support improved care. Facilitated by the PMMRC Maternal	 Miss J and the findings from panel reviews of 32 women with sepsis, and the ups and downs of being a morbidity reviewer. Dr Matthew Drake, anaesthetist, Auckland DHB; Linda Penlington, consumer representative; Lucy Pettit, midwife, Whanganui DHB; Dr Leona Dann, maternity specialist, Health
Update your knowledge about best practice to further reduce stillbirth in New Zealand: • detect and manage fetal growth restriction; and • optimise maternal sleep practices. Professor Lesley McCowan, maternal fetal medicine specialist, Auckland DHB and Head of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, University of Auckland; Joyce Cowan, senior lecturer – midwifery, AUT University. Facilitated by Dr Sue Belgrave Understanding the value of the investigation perinatal deaths and whanau/family perspective: • post-mortem and alternatives to post mortems • women's views of late stillbirth post-mortem: findings from the New Zeal Multicentre Stillbirth Study • whānau and family perspective of post mortem and creating memories Dr Kate Strachan, perinatal pathologist, Wellington; Robin Cronin, PMMRC member; Wicki Culling, Perinatal Loss Consultant/Trainer, Wellington; members of Sands Wellington & Hutt Valley, Shyz Khar and Yvonne Daymond	2:15pm	Time to move between rooms (five minutes)
practice to further reduce stillbirth in New Zealand: • detect and manage fetal growth restriction; and • optimise maternal sleep practices. Professor Lesley McCowan, maternal fetal medicine specialist, Auckland DHB and Head of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, University of Auckland; Joyce Cowan, senior lecturer – midwifery, AUT University. Facilitated by Dr Sue Belgrave perinatal deaths and whanau/family perspective: • post-mortem and alternatives to post mortems • women's views of late stillbirth post-mortem: findings from the New Zealand Multicentre Stillbirth Study • whānau and family perspective of post mortem and creating memories Dr Kate Strachan, perinatal pathologist, Wellington; Robin Cronin, PMMRC member; Wicki Culling, Perinatal Loss Consultant/Trainer, Wellington; members of Sands Wellington & Hutt Valley, Shyz Kharand Yvonne Daymond	2:20pm	Reducing perinatal mortality
Sands Wellington & Hutt Valley, Shyz Khar and Yvonne Daymond		practice to further reduce stillbirth in New Zealand: • detect and manage fetal growth restriction; and • optimise maternal sleep practices. Professor Lesley McCowan, maternal fetal medicine specialist, Auckland DHB and Head of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, University of Auckland; Joyce Cowan, senior lecturer – midwifery, AUT University.	 perinatal deaths and whanau/family perspective: post-mortem and alternatives to post-mortems women's views of late stillbirth post-mortem: findings from the New Zealand Multicentre Stillbirth Study whānau and family perspective of post-mortem and creating memories Dr Kate Strachan, perinatal pathologist, Wellington; Robin Cronin, PMMRC member, midwife researcher, Auckland; Lisa Paraku, consumer representative PMMRC member;
a vacon - i Aneritour lea lau minules)	3:05pm	Afternoon tea (30 minutes)	Sands Wellington & Hutt Valley, Shyz Khan and Yvonne Daymond

3:35pm	A Baby with neonatal encephalopathy - everyone can make a difference A neonatal encephalopathy case review
	Dr Jutta van den Boom, chair, Neonatal Encephalopathy Working Group (NEWG) and neonatal paediatrician, Waitemata DHB; Dr David Bailey , obstetrician and gynaecologist, Northland DHB; Ms Suzanne Miller , midwife, Wellington; Ms Karen Bennington , neonatal nurse practitioner, Capital & Coast DHB. Facilitated by Rose Elder , PMMRC member
4:25pm	Final questions PMMRC members
4:45pm	Wrap up Dr Sue Belgrave
5:00pm	Close
5:00pm - 6:00pm	Networking function (Icon, level 3) An opportunity to catch up and meet new colleagues. Nibbles provided; cash bar available.

^{*}The 12th PMMRC Annual Report will be available on the Commission's website from 9:00am on Tuesday, 26 June 2018. We encourage you to bring your own device to view the report in-session, as we will not be providing hard copies on the day.